

Coach Clyde Jackson Jr.

Houston County School Board – Post 7 at large

Press Release

In the upcoming election for the Houston County School Board, Post 7 At Large Seat, one candidate stands out for his unparalleled dedication to education, community service, and youth sports. Clyde Jackson, a retired middle school Georgia history teacher and coach, is running to ensure our schools place Kids First. With over 30 years of experience in education and a deep commitment to the community, Clyde is the candidate we need to foster educational excellence in Houston County.

A Lifetime of Service and Education

Clyde Jackson's journey in education and community service is marked by dedication and excellence. A proud graduate of Warner Robins High School and Fort Valley State University, Clyde has devoted his life to educating young minds and preparing them for the future. His career as a middle school teacher and winning coach in Houston County has impacted thousands of students, teaching them the values of hard work, respect, and the importance of history.

A Dedicated Advocate for Education in the Houston County School District

Champion for Youth Sports

Beyond the classroom, Clyde has been a guiding force in youth sports, coaching all sports and contributing significantly to the development of young athletes. His involvement in the GHSA Warner Robins Basketball Officials Association demonstrates his commitment to fair play and the positive impact of sports on youth development.

Community Leader and Volunteer

Clyde's contributions to the community extend beyond education and sports. A lifetime member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., and a 35-year member of the Omega Gamma Gamma chapter in Warner Robins, Georgia, Clyde has exemplified leadership and service. His work with the fraternity and as a member of the First Baptist Church Garmon Street has touched many lives, making him a respected figure in our community.

A Family Man with Deep Roots in the Community

At the heart of Clyde Jackson's campaign is his role as a father, husband, grandfather, brother, and friend. The Jackson family has lived in the Houston County area for nearly a century. During that time, the Jacksons have shown an unwavering commitment to education with Clyde's mother, brother and sister all serving the Houston County community as educators and support staff. Clyde has been married 35 years to his high school and college sweetheart Dr. Traci McKenzie-Jackson, a retired educator/principal. They have two children Jada (Marvin) and Clyde III. They have one grandchild Kai. Clyde's deep family ties and extensive network of friends and colleagues in Houston County speak volumes about his character and dedication to those around him. Clyde's vision for the Houston County School Board is driven by his belief in putting kids first, ensuring every child in Houston County receives a quality education that prepares them for success.

Vote for Experience, Dedication, and Community

Clyde Jackson's candidacy for the Houston County School Board Post 7 At Large Seat is built on a foundation of experience, dedication, and a deep commitment to our community. With over 30 years in education, a lifetime of service, and a track record of leadership, Clyde is the candidate we can trust to make a difference in our schools.

As a Board Member, Clyde Jackson, will pursue objectives reflective of his experience, values and passion for engaging students, parents and educators.

- Ensure that the educational policies enacted are fair to the people in the communities served and are representative of their values
- Advocate for the right leadership at every level and for leaders whose values are consistent with those of Houston County
- Ensure resources are available to meet students' needs giving every student the best chance to be successful regardless of their ability or background
- Ensure every academic or training opportunity is available to all Houston County students with the understanding that success does not look the same for all students
- Maximize opportunities for parent engagement in education
- Ensure equitable hiring practices throughout the district
- Promote healthy engagement and accountability of parents and educators in their child's education
